19         Hi! I am a passionate computer science engineering student with a keen interest in web development, 20             programming, and creative problem solving. I love turning ideas into practical applications with simple and 21             efficient code. Whether it is designing user-friendly websites or exploring new technologies, I am eager to 22             learn and grow. My goal is to contribute to impactful technology solutions by continuously improving my 23             skills.
